History

The first permanent dwellers known in Scott County were the Picuris Indians from the Taos area of New Mexico. They fled the Spanish rule and drifted north into what is now Northern Scott County, Kansas. They built their one story stone and adobe pueblo near Beaver Creek. This became known as El Cuartelejo.

Scott County was created by an act of the legislature in 1873, and named in honor of General Winfield Scott, a hero in both the War of 1812 and the Mexican War, and Commander-in-Chief at the beginning of the Civil War in 1861. For several years, Scott County had no population except bands of Native Americans, hide hunters, and a few nomadic stockmen.

In 1884, Maria DeGeer, a most unusual and progressive woman, came from Chicago to establish a temperance community in the heart of what is now Scott County. She and three men owned the four quarters intersecting the city center. The Town Company of Scott was organized and incorporated on September 11, 1885. Settlers were quick to follow.

The city flourished during the years leading up to 1890, but was set back by crop failures. By 1903, there were only about 350 people living in Scott City. Nevertheless, about 35 years later, Scott City had grown to nearly 1,800 residents and was viewed as a highly progressive town.

In 1902, Scott City had one bank, five lawyers, four general stores, a high school, one physician, one drug store, one lumber yard, an opera house, several churches, two dray lines, Missouri Pacific (MP) and Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe (ATSF) railways with six passenger trains daily, four coal dealers, two blacksmith shops, and many more Main Street businesses.

Over 140 years ago, the first homesteaders came to Scott County. They came in covered wagons, by horse, or on foot. They were hardy, broadminded visionaries who were tested many times through drought and blizzard conditions. These Pioneers, who had stamina and faith, stayed because they loved this prairie and passed that love on to their descendants. The same pioneer spirit is alive and well in Scott Citians today!

Schools &

The schools of USD #466 strive for excellence and achievement in education, fine arts, athletics and all extra-curricular activities. The faculty and staff in our district aim to enrich the lives of approximately 1000 students enrolled each year from pre-K through 12th grade. The Board of Education and administration serving USD #466 ensure a safe and optimal learning environment for all students through the necessary preservation and renewal of our citizen-owned facilities.

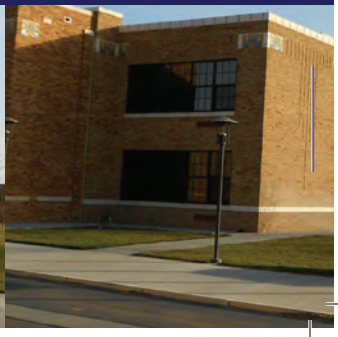

Parents, teachers and students communicate through a fluid networking system implemented across the district. Technology is key, evidenced by the iPads provided to students for academic use throughout their SCMS and SCHS years. While our enrollment is rising and predicted to trend higher, we have maintained an average class size of 20, with optimum teacher-student interaction. The first-rate education provided to students in Scott County schools is an invaluable asset to our community. Students with special needs find security and compassion in the Special Education faculty who help them excel.

Education

Scott Community High School (9th – 12th)

The 2005 renovation of the original SCHS building demonstrates the support our local community and businesses provide our school district.

A varied curriculum, including not only the basic core subjects, but also classes in technology, fine arts, agricultural education and various other electives, offers students a well-rounded, world-class education with a multitude of various interests. Our teachers strive to ensure that every student graduating from our district is prepared for the next phase of life.

Regarding extra-curricular activities, SCHS now competes at the 4A level in the Great West Activities Conference (GWAC). GO, BEAVERS!

Scott City Middle School (5th – 8th)

In addition to core curriculum, SCMS places students in a variety of elective classes including art, music, technology, home economics and others. Teachers at SCMS avidly embrace the guidance of youth through this important phase of their education. Instrumental music instruction begins at SCMS, as do the activities of student council, quiz bowl and cheerleading.

School sponsored athletic activities also begin at the middle school for 7th and 8th grade students. Girls may participate in volleyball, cross country, basketball, and track, while boys are offered football, cross country, wrestling, basketball, and track.

Scott City Elementary School (Pre K – 4th)

SCES offers a fundamental curriculum along with extracurricular classes including PE, art and music. The importance of technology is evident even in the earliest grades through the use of multiple devices.

A spacious playground is used by students throughout the day during recess and after school hours. In addition to the regular school day, SCES also offers SCORE, an after-school program designed to provide a structured environment with homework time, games, snacks and other activities.

SCES faculty aims to achieve the highest standards during those critical early years in every child's education.

Transportation

K-96 and US Highway 83 intersect in the heart of downtown Scott City. Traffic from both these major highways funnel tourists, business travelers, and truck drivers into town to many of the locally-owned shops and restaurants on a daily basis.

Scott City Municipal Airport is located on the eastern side of Scott City, just south of K-96 off of Mesquite Road and serves local and regional air traffic. This airport is used regularly for medical evacuation flights, private jet travel, aerial applicators and occasionally the military. The airport has a 5,002 foot runway to accommodate small jets. Scott County is home to the highest number of pilots per capita in Kansas.

The Kansas and Oklahoma Railroad also passes through Scott City. The K&O is one of the largest single short lines in the industry, carrying a diversity of ag commodities such as grain and grain products, as well as industrial products, such as chemicals and paper.

By working with local citizens and funding partners, SCDC strives to ensure Scott County progresses toward its "Preferred Future."

Collaboration with local government and businesses sets Scott County down the path for growth. SCDC is a not-for-profit organization in good standing that reports to and is largely funded by the City of Scott City and Scott County Commission. When advantageous, SCDC utilizes federal and state grant programs to access funds to ensure its loan pool remains adequate. This funding ultimately provide business loan financing for large-scale projects or new/existing business clients.

The vision of SCDC is to provide and promote an economically viable, dynamic, and livable Scott County and the mission is to preserve, protect and enhance both economic and lifestyle opportunities for the county's residents and businesses.

A few of SCDC's programs include:

- E-Community Programs through Network KS
- "Building Bridges Scott City" Collaboration to Address Workforce Issues Between Education and Business Sectors
- Reality U Program to Encourage Fiscal Responsibilty and Dedication to Studies Among Youth
- Scott County Micro Loan Program and
- USDA Rural Business Enterprise Grant

Scott Community Foundation

Open Monday-Friday: 8a.m. - 5p.m.
210 W 4th St. 620-872-3790

The Scott Community Foundation history began in 1987 as the Scott County Health Care Foundation, with a purpose of advancing health care needs in the community. In 2000, seeing a need to expand the Foundation's mission and support for the community, the Scott Community Foundation was re-established as a community foundation.

The Scott Community Foundation is a 501c3 Non-Profit Organization. This means the majority of the assets are received from local individuals, organizations, and businesses. Generous community support and sensible investment management have enabled the Scott Community foundation endowment to reach over $9 million. The proceeds from these funds will continue to be used in perpetuity to fund postsecondary education scholarships and community projects in accordance with donors' intentions.

Since 2000, Scott Community Foundation has distributed more than $10 million back into the community through grants, scholarships, and other special projects.

The Scott Community Foundation is a nonprofit organization dedicated to preserving local wealth so the communities in and around Scott County will forever remain attractive places to live, work, and raise a family.

Last, But Not Least

In 2011, Scott City earned the All-America City Award from the National Civic League by working together to solve community challenges that affect the lives of citizens. The AAC logo will be displayed proudly around our town for years to come. One can be certain Scott City is a likely contender for the title in future years!

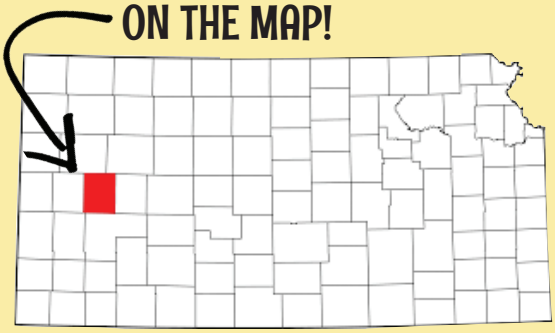

Scott County ranks #2 in Kansas & #26 in the Nation for Total Production Agriculture Revenue (farming and livestock). Success in agriculture is essential to Scott County and the United States as well.

Historic Lake Scott State Park – "8 Wonders of Kansas"

Finalist for the rugged beauty and serenity of this hidden oasis, the 1,020-acre park surrounds the 100-acre state fishing lake fed by natural springs. National Geographic selected Lake Scott among the "Top 50 State Parks." The perfect getaway for a weekend or the day!

Battle Canyon & El Quartelejo Pueblo Ruins are listed in the National Registry of Historic Places. Battle Canyon marks the site of the last US Cavalry/Indian battle in Kansas. The pueblo, once occupied by Picurie Indians, is the northernmost in America.
